2025

WE EXTEND OUR GRATITUDE TO OUR ENTIRE DELAWARE COMMUNITY AND REMAIN COMMITTED TO SERVICE, OPPORTUNITY, AND PARTNERSHIP IN EVERY FACET OF OUR FIRM'S MISSION AND WORK.

A MESSAGE FROM OUR PRESIDENT
— Paul N. Heath

► Paul N. Heath,
President

It is a privilege to reflect on our firm's history and to continue building on its proud legacy of excellence, leadership, and service. For more than 125 years, Richards, Layton & Finger has played a defining role in shaping Delaware law and upholding the highest standards of the legal profession.

Equally important to who we are is our enduring commitment to our community. We value the deep connections we've built in Delaware—connections that go beyond our work in the courtroom and the boardroom. Our lawyers and staff members have long understood that true leadership includes giving back, and I greatly appreciate the time, care, and dedication they devote to helping those in need.

Through our pro bono efforts and support of Delaware's legal aid organizations, our involvement with countless non-profits, our time tutoring youth and feeding homeless and at-risk members of our community, and our various collections, fundraisers, and donations each year in support of our community partners, we continue to make a meaningful difference in the lives of others. I am proud of the compassion, generosity, and perseverance of those at our firm in deepening our community partnerships to create positive and lasting change.

Together, we will continue to honor our legacy and work together for the benefit of our community.

A MESSAGE FROM OUR PRO BONO & COMMUNITY SERVICE COMMITTEE CHAIR

— Russell Silberglied

► Russell Silberglied,
Chair of the Pro Bono & Community Service Committee

We can all be proud to be part of a firm that truly values pro bono service. And it's not just words: Richards Layton has developed a thriving pro bono program that allows attorneys to donate their talents to causes that are meaningful to them, credits pro bono work as billable hours, and features specialized pro bono teams to help attorneys readily take part in projects that offer valuable professional development opportunities while making a difference

Our six pro bono teams provide substantial assistance to those in need in our community and beyond. Our work includes serving as child attorneys, representing victims of domestic violence, and assisting indigent seniors with end-of-life needs. We represent local and global non-profits, and we work on civil rights cases in the Delaware District Court. In addition to the efforts of our teams, we conduct a variety of important pro bono initiatives, helping to revitalize distressed areas of our community, championing underserved children, and working with Lex Mundi to advance non-profits around the world.

2,850 HOURS IN 2025

THE FIRM DEDICATED MORE THAN 2,850 HOURS TOWARDS PRO BONO AND COMMUNITY SERVICE WORK IN 2025.

A MESSAGE FROM OUR DIVERSITY & INCLUSION COMMITTEE CHAIR

— Doneene Keemer Damon

► Doneene Keemer Damon,
Chair of the Diversity & Inclusion Committee

Diversity and inclusion are core commitments at Richards, Layton & Finger. These commitments have been there from the start: we were the first major Delaware law firm with a female partner, the first with an African American partner, the first with a South Asian partner, and one of the first with a Hispanic partner. I am proud to have served as the firm's first woman president and as the first African American to lead a major Delaware law firm.

Our firm remains focused on broadening and deepening our D&I strategy.

The strategy includes (1) ensuring we cast a wide net to increase our opportunity to recruit qualified law students; (2) creating a professional development plan to improve retention and upward mobility within the firm; (3) creating a pipeline of diverse talent throughout our firm; and (4) working with the broader legal community to increase expertise in the Delaware bar. But within all of this, we continue to prioritize the "I" in our D&I strategy.

The "I" in our D&I strategy is our driver and the metric we measure. Inclusion is foundational to an effective D&I strategy. At its core, inclusion is about removing barriers and giving equal access and opportunities to all. An inclusive workplace is one in which the working culture and environment recognizes, appreciates, and effectively utilizes the talents, skills, and perspectives of every employee to achieve the organization's objectives and mission, and, in doing so, connects each employee to the organization. In essence, we prioritize a culture of belonging. We will continue to focus on and prioritize employee well-being, supporting each person to be the best versions of themselves. We will also continue to support and highlight the development and enhanced career achievements and progression of every member of the firm.

An effective D&I strategy requires a collective effort from us all. It will require us to trust one another, to be empathetic with one another, to learn from one another, and to grow with one another. I am excited about what the future holds for us as a firm and the role Richards, Layton & Finger will play to advance diversity and inclusion. Thank you for your partnership in this important work.
